MrTed and eQuest Release Job Posting Delivery Services through SmartRecruiters

The 100% Free Applicant Tracking System utilizes eQuest as its First On-Demand Service Activation

SAN FRANCISCO, CA – SAN RAMON, CA – January 12, 2009 – MrTed Ltd., a recognized leader in talent acquisition solutions, today announced the availability of job posting access for its 100% free Applicant Tracking System (ATS) SmartRecruiters. The Go-Live includes direct posting access to several free job boards powered by eQuest and is the first service activation under the strategic alliance between MrTed & eQuest, which was announced in November 2008.

As part of its future plans with eQuest, SmartRecruiters will also extend services to eQuest’s extensive worldwide job posting network including most major and niche job boards covering 180 countries. With the self-service model of SmartRecruiters, now powered by eQuest for job distribution services, MrTed delivers on its promise to leverage eQuest’s extensive experience and deliver a comprehensive solution, which can significantly reduce costs and bring top sourcing and recruitment technology to small businesses and midsize companies.

“We have been absolutely overwhelmed by the positive feedback that we have received since the launch of SmartRecruiters,” says Jerome Ternynck, MrTed’s Chief Executive Officer. “We are listening to our clients and as a result we have brought forward the most desired next service – one-click job posting delivery service through eQuest to multiple sourcing channels and job boards.”

The programs first phase will include free posting sites covering Canada (Kijiji); the United States (by Indeed and SimplyHired and its network of hosted websites) as well as GoogleBase. Asia Pacific will be covered through the many career sites owned and operated by Recruit.net. Others will also be available.
