

MrTed Announces Partnership Agreement with HRchitect

Leading HR consulting firm offering services to help SMBs maximize value of SmartRecruiters deployment

SAN FRANCISCO, CA – April 14, 2009 – MrTed Ltd., provider of the free and easy-to-use applicant tracking system (ATS) SmartRecruiters, today announced a partnership with HRchitect, the leader in HR systems strategic consulting. MrTed and HRchitect understand that ‘purchasing’ an ATS isn’t part of your daily responsibilities ... nor should it be. With this agreement, MrTed can offer HRchitect’s expertise to SmartRecruiters’ users, so they can benefit from consulting services to ease implementation, integration with other applications, and increase client satisfaction.

HRchitect will provide new users with a free webinar, “Tips and Tricks for the SmartRecruiters ATS,” that will help small and medium-size clients get up and running quickly. Also, users can choose to receive a complimentary “cheat sheet” from HRchitect and SmartRecruiters on how to set up their free ATS in a few minutes and then inform others within the organization about their ‘purchase.’ If users need an extra level of assistance, HRchitect will provide consulting services for a fee to provide training and services related to the SmartRecruiters ATS.

“Partnering with HRchitect will provide SmartRecruiters users with implementation consulting for their free ATS if they need it,” said Jerome Ternynck, CEO and co-founder, MrTed. “We are also pleased to provide our clients with the opportunity to benefit from world-class HR systems consulting that HRchitect provides.”

“As the leading ATS and Talent Management Systems consulting firm, we follow vendors very closely to stay on top of this dynamic industry,” stated Matt Lafata, VP of Sales & Marketing for HRchitect. “Innovation from applicant tracking and talent management vendors is still very high, and we were intrigued when MrTed introduced their free SmartRecruiters ATS in the Fall of 2008. HRchitect is available to help SmartRecruiters users get up and running as efficiently as possible while also helping to integrate SmartRecruiters with any other HR or Talent Management applications.”
